

Notice to landlord of rented premises

Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (the Act)

Note: Enter text in spaces provided only. This form will be invalid if you remove or change any questions or other text.

Use this form to give notice to the landlord/agent that:

- non-urgent repairs are required
- you have arranged and paid for urgent repairs and you require reimbursement
- you have paid utility charges that are not your responsibility and you require reimbursement
- you caused or became aware of damage to the premises
- you are terminating the tenancy agreement before moving in
- you are the legal representative or next of kin of the tenant who is deceased
- you intend to vacate because the premises have been destroyed or are unfit for human habitation
- you intend to vacate for other reasons.

How to use this form

1. Identify your reason

Read the reasons for giving a notice on the back of this page and identify the correct reason for your circumstances.

The number beside each reason is the relevant section of the Act. You should consult the Act to make sure that you are entitled to give a notice.

2. Complete part 1 to 7

You must complete all boxes.

3. Sign at part 8 and write your name at part 9

4. Write your reason in part 10

In part 10, write the section number and the exact words given to you on the back of this page.

5. Attachments

For some reasons you must provide evidence or receipts. If you are providing them, attach them to the notice and tick the 'yes' box in part 11.

6. When the form is complete

Send a copy of the form to the landlord. For more information, see 'How to serve this notice' on page 2.

Keep copies of the form for your records. If the landlord does not comply, you can post one of these copies to Consumer Affairs Victoria to request an inspection or email the document to renting@justice.vic.gov.au

How to serve this notice

You can serve this notice by hand, by post, or by email (with consent).

If you send this notice by post, you must take into account the extra days it takes for the notice to be delivered. Australia Post has three different speeds for ordinary mail delivery – express, priority and regular mail, which may take up to six days. Priority and regular delivery speeds also apply for registered post. You may wish to keep evidence of the mail delivery method you relied on to send this notice.

For more information about Australia Post’s mail delivery options and times, visit the Australia Post website (auspost.com.au).

You can only send this notice by email if you already have the landlord’s written consent to receive notices and other documents this way. The landlord may have given consent in the tenancy agreement or separately in writing. A consent form is available from the Forms and publications section – Consumer Affairs Victoria website (consumer.vic.gov.au/forms).

If you send this notice by email, the provisions of the Electronic Transactions (Victoria) Act 2000 apply. For legal purposes, the time when a notice is received is when it can be retrieved from the email address the recipient nominated.

To help calculate the total minimum days to allow, depending on the notice period required and the method of delivery, visit the Giving notices – Residential Tenancies List page – Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal website (vcat.vic.gov.au/resources/giving-notices-residential-tenancies-list).

If you need help with this notice, visit the Renting section – Consumer Affairs Victoria website (consumer.vic.gov.au/renting) or call the Consumer Affairs Victoria Helpline on 1300 55 81 81.
